Re: Non accredited Introduction to Counselling

Thank you for enquiring about our next Introduction to Counselling. This is a four-week non-accredited course beginning Tuesday September 3rd from 6 pm-10 pm. Certificates of attendance will be presented on completion of your training.

This course will give students insight into the world of counselling skills and theory, as well as address the need to enhance personal confidence and communication skills. In addition, we will tell you about how to enrol for our Certificate/Diploma in counselling which will begin immediately after the Introduction training. We will also thoroughly explain what to expect should you wish to proceed with your counselling studies.

Should students wish to further their studies following the Introduction, they can apply to enrol on the accredited Level 4, Aim Awards Accredited Certificate/Diploma in Therapeutic Counselling, which is a professional counselling qualification beginning immediately after the Introduction to Counselling. This is a two-year part time qualification once per week.

All JMCs training will be provided by highly trained counselling practitioners and standardised Tutors.

Should you wish to simply register for the Introduction, or continue with your studies thereafter, we would be delighted to hear from you.

Fees for this training are set at a reduced rate of just £95.00 for the Introduction to Counselling Theory and Skills. This course is usually £195.00. Unfortunately, as JMC Counselling & Training are an Independent Counselling Centre, we cannot provide facilities for either reduced rates or funding. Fees must be paid before places are confirmed and will be allocated on a first-come-first-served basis.

Please note that should a student begin this course, no refunds will be given even if that student leaves the course in week one, two, or week three. However, if you pay your fees and cannot begin the Introduction to Counselling full refunds will be given.

Please note that fees cannot be transferred to any other student. Should you require further clarification or information, please do not hesitate to contact us here at our offices.

Very Best Wishes
